Global water issues, water disasters, ocean plastics, cleaning up rivers and beaches ... We'd like you young generation to submit a 3-minute video in English, on the theme of water; either one that you've made or one that you find interesting. All videos will be posted on our website and shown to the world. We also plan to participate in the UN Water Conference for the International Decade of Action on Water, to be held in New York in March 2023. We want to work on water-related issues with people of your generation from all over the world to create a better future. We look forward to hearing from you!
